

The image shows a ruler template designed for creating a ruler. It consists of six identical vertical columns. Each column is defined by a solid vertical line on the left and a dashed vertical line on the right. At the top of each column, there is a small circle with a crosshair inside it, resembling a hole punch or a registration mark. The columns are evenly spaced across the page.