

The image displays a series of 10 horizontal black lines. Each line is accompanied by seven evenly spaced black dots positioned directly below it. This layout is designed to facilitate the practice of writing or drawing mathematical concepts, such as fractions or decimals, where the dots might represent specific values or points on a number line.

