

The image displays a series of 12 horizontal black lines, each serving as a baseline for a row of text. On each line, there are seven evenly spaced, solid black dots. These dots are positioned at approximately one-quarter, one-half, three-quarters, and full-width intervals along each line, providing a guide for letter placement and alignment. The entire grid is designed for students to practice writing short strips of text, likely related to the integrated math curriculum mentioned in the header.

The form consists of 12 horizontal lines, each with 7 dots positioned below it. The dots are arranged in a grid pattern, with 7 dots per line and 12 lines in total. This layout is designed for students to write short strips of text or equations.
